

Lore evaluation:

The lore Believe music video turned out really well with only a few minor problems in the first cut. The problems that we had joring the shot was like the green screen being a bit slippery for the dancers so we had tape it do more so it was safe. Other things like the green being a bit hard to work with in the edit as the lighting was a bit low. The sinking the music with the live performance had a few problems as the singer got a head of the song from time to time. But in the end the band really like it so that's all that mathers.

Gameshow evaluations:

I think the final product of the game show turn out good, but I feel like it can always be improved. On the day's filming we had run into many technical problems that made us not able to make it how we had envisioned. We had some major problems with recording the tv footage so filmed it with a camera and it turn out better than thought so the did not stop us from filming as we were determine to get it done.
